The aggregate value of projects
(net) we delivered (₹ crore) in the decade ending 2015-16

In 2015-16, Alphageo received the largest single seismic service order for ₹242 crore (Gross) from ONGC Ltd in its existence.

In March 2016, Alphageo received an Order for ₹102 crore (net) from Oil India Ltd

In June 2016, Alphageo received another set of orders aggregating ₹1300 crore (net) (Gross ₹1482 crore). This is possibly the largest ever set of orders awarded to any seismic survey company in India.

And arguably among the largest 2D seismic survey assignments (29265 line kms) awarded anywhere in the world to a single company.

There is just one message that we wish to communicate to our shareholders.

We are prepared

This is what these orders from ONGC and OIL mean for our company...

29,265 Line km of 2D seismic data acquisition
Larger than the 2D seismic data acquisition done by Alphageo in the previous 30 projects

1,402 Value of the order (₹ crore) (net)
Equivalent to 20x our topline of 2015-16

This is what these orders need...

Rich experience

Faced with the largest order book increase in our existence, the big question that most analysts are asking is whether we possess the terrain experience to address the unprecedented.

At Alphageo, we possess a rich multi-decade experience of working in diverse and difficult topographies.

Our experience matrix comprises:

- More than 25 years of experience in seismic data acquisition
- More than 60% of the original team still working with us
- More than 1300 person-years of experience in multi-basinal and challenging terrains
- More than 15900 GLK of 2D seismic survey and 5500 sq km of 3D seismic surveys across challenging terrains
- Experience of working across 8 sedimentary basins in 16 Indian states and international locations
- Experience of more than 51 completed projects

Result: Our rich multi-terrain experience reinforced our credentials that translated into the award of these large seismic survey orders.

This is how we are prepared...

Adequate resources

Following the receipt of the largest aggregate seismic services order, the question that most industry observers are asking is whether we possess adequate resources to address the opportunity.

At Alphageo, our preparedness is the result of having invested in scalable resources well before we received this landmark order.

Equipment: We cherry-picked specialised data acquisition equipment from reputed global suppliers, building in adequate systemic redundancy to ensure project continuity

Crew: We intend to reinforce our proprietary crews by on-boarding dependable global seismic service personnel to address these prestigious projects.

Finance: We increased our working capital limits with bankers to address the opportunity.

Capex: We possessed a completely de-leveraged Balance Sheet (zero long-term debt) that makes it possible to mobilise incremental low-cost funds to finance additional capital expenditure.

Result: Alphageo is organisationally prepared to commission work even before Zero Day.

Credible management

The largest seismic surety orders in the world warrants a proactive hands-on management that is equipped to address the number of concurrent projects, terrain diversity, ability to attract additional intellectual capital, insight to interpret the generated data and complete all projects on or before schedule.

At Alphageo, we are prepared in addressing the challenge for a number of reasons.

The Company restructured the organisational architecture, creating new teams managed by Process Managers drawn from existing members.

The Company embarked on providing intensive training to team members for assuming managerial roles.

The Company created a 3-member team to undertake periodic multi-site systems and process audits.

Result: Alphageo is quietly confident that this preparedness will translate into successful project delivery.

FROM THE CHAIRMAN'S DESK

CHAIRMAN

“Our business space is increasingly promising as the Government focuses on strengthening India’s oil self-sufficiency.”

Dear shareholders,

ENERGY REPRESENTS THE BACKBONE OF THE INDIAN ECONOMY.

As India strengthens its position as the fastest growing economy, oil consumption is expected to accelerate. For a country that imports more than 75% of her oil appetite, this is a grim prospect exposing India to geo-political vulnerability.

What was disturbing for long was India’s lack of focus in the exploration of oil and gas reserves. Exploration represents the cornerstone for enhancing domestic production. Less than 50% of India’s sedimentary basins are explored. Of more than 3 million square kilometres of the Indian sedimentary basins, geo-scientific data on nearly 48% of the basins is scarce or unavailable. For the last two decades, no fresh assessment to gauge hydrocarbon potential of its 26 basins has been conducted. Although the country possesses proven reserves of 206 billion barrels of oil, only 67 billion barrels are online.

I am happy to state that this is about to change.

The Government of India announced its decision to strengthen the country’s oil self-sufficiency with the objective to moderate the impact of oil price volatility on her economic progress. The Prime Minister set a goal of reducing India’s import dependence from 75%-plus of its 'energy' requirement by 10% by 2022 and 50% by 2030. In line with this ambitious goal, India's oil hunt is expected to accelerate.

In 2016, the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas set in motion a large exercise titled National Seismic Program through ONGC Ltd and OIL India Ltd to obtain data of unappraised national spaces estimated at around 50% of India's identified sedimentary basins. This initiative was taken to cover all onshore areas with a preliminary 2D seismic survey.

To cover offshore areas, another policy was implemented under the 'multi-client non-exclusive' survey through which global companies can analyse and collect seismic data at their cost, which can then be marketed to potential investors.

This means unprecedented opportunities for India's seismic survey sector.

For Alphageo, this indicates superior prospects on account of a rich experience of working across most Indian terrains for more than two decades; this means a head-start, banking on a proven record of delivering projects on/ before schedule; this means more projects on account of vertically-integrated seismic services; this means the start of another phase in our existence.

Overview

These are exciting times for the Company as we hope to play a meaningful role in India's efforts to discover additional oil and gas reserves.

Hidden wealth

Since 1950, roughly 69 trillion cubic feet of proven and probable recoverable gas reserves have been discovered in India.

Only 42 trillion cubic feet has been developed and is currently under production.

That leaves 18 trillion cubic feet of reserves yet to be produced and 27 trillion cubic feet of reserves yet to be developed.

According to an analysis of 12 basins across India, approximately 64 trillion cubic feet of risked recoverable resources are yet to be found.

Thus, India holds at least 91 trillion cubic feet of recoverable gas reserves.

In addition to conventional gas reserves, India also holds an estimated 63 trillion cubic feet of recoverable shale gas.

My message in two sentences.

Unprecedented opportunities lie ahead.

Alphageo is prepared to capitalise.

OPERATIONAL REVIEW

MR. DINESH ALLA,
MANAGING DIRECTOR,
DISCUSSES ALPHAGEO'S
PERFORMANCE AND THE
SECTORAL PROMISE

Were you happy with the Company's performance in 2015-16?

It was a good year from a business standpoint, a majority of which will have its reflection in our financial performance over the coming years. While revenue increased by 7.23% over the previous year, net profit declined by 33% over the previous year. Due to intense competitive pricing, our EBITDA margin and net margin declined by 8.27% and 9.25% respectively.

What was the highlight of the Company's working?

In India, we received the single largest order of ₹242 crore from ONGC for 3D seismic survey in the KG Basin, the largest single order by Alphageo in more than two decades. Besides, other high ticket projects were also awarded, which provide revenue visibility for the next three field seasons. We received two business opportunities in Myanmar (not large) that were significant as they enabled us to emerge as the largest seismic survey service provider in that nation.

Where did the Company stand at the close of 2015-16?

The financial year 2015-16 was completed with an order book of ₹274 crore, (net of taxes) on hand. We repaid our long-term debt, increased our working capital limits to prepare for increasing business and invested in equipment to capitalise on emerging opportunities.

What is happening in the Indian seismic survey space?

Dramatic things are happening in the Indian oil exploration and processing space primarily due to the Government's focus on meeting India's growing oil appetite. In keeping with this vision, the Prime Minister set a goal for reducing India's import dependence from 75%-plus of its 'energy' requirement by 10% across the next six years. This direction promises to unlock significant opportunities for the global (not just country) E&P and seismic survey sectors.

1,402

Quantum of ONGC and OIL orders (net) (₹ crore) for seismic surveys

What kind of opportunities?

The Open Acreage Licensing Policy (OALP) is expected to be operational by 2019. This promises to be an inflection point in India's search for this critical fossil fuel. Under the OALP, upstream companies can select and bid for any oil and gas block at any time during the year without the government needing to conduct an auction. Currently, the Government is inadequately prepared as more than 50% of India's sedimentary basins lie under- or unexplored, promising sizeable opportunities for us.

What other opportunities are you looking at in the current fiscal?

Myanmar has emerged as an important geography. In 2015-16, we were awarded seismic survey contracts for the second time. This repeat opportunity is significant as it represents a showcase of our service quality and commitment. As opportunities unfold, Alphageo is in a strong position to emerge as a preferred seismic survey partner.

What is the message you would like to leave shareholders?

The future holds significant promise and Alphageo is fully prepared.

The unprecedented orders flow

Alphageo received large ONGC contracts for the acquisition of 2D seismic data in unappraised inland Indian sedimentary basins. These orders are a part of the National Seismic Program aggregating ₹1482 crore (Gross) that need to be completed by June 2019. The order comprises six basins out of the 11 basins considered for seismic data acquisition (one remains unawarded) aggregating 26,905 line kms of 2D seismic survey to be completed within three years.

What this order means for Alphageo

From an order perspective

The largest order for any Indian seismic survey player

The largest order in Alphageo's existence

The largest global order for any seismic survey service provider (by area coverage)

From a positioning perspective

Showcases the Company's credentials in bidding for and managing large projects

Promises to transform an India-leading player into a global service provider.

From a business perspective

Widens the scope of operations; order requires the Company's crew to operate 10 concurrent locations

Enhance capacity utilisation even as the global seismic survey sector remains subdued

From a topline perspective

Provides a three-year revenue visibility in a business where revenue visibility generally does not extend beyond three quarters.

From a growth perspective

Promises to open up sizeable opportunities as the Open Acreage Policy regime draws global E&P giants into India.

The challenges and their mitigation

01 Equipment

The Company will need to invest in equipment for managing this sizeable business opportunity

Mitigation: The Company has ordered adequate data acquisition equipment to operate all 10 crews simultaneously. The Company will prudently utilise its fund-based credit lines with bankers and suppliers for this purchase, which allows staggered payments.

02 Crew

The Company will need more crews (teams of people) to work on multiple sites.

Mitigation: Globally the seismic data acquisition services are experiencing a slowdown due to a sharp decline in crude oil prices (owing to excess supply of crude). As a result, Alphageo will be able to on-board globally-experienced seismic personnel for undertaking this assignment.

03 Long-term funds

To manage this large project the Company would need long-term funds.

Mitigation: Having estimated capex requirement, the Company's requirement for long-term funds would be marginal at best. Its de-leveraged Balance Sheet (with no long-term debts) will enable it to source adequate low-cost long-term funds.

04 Working capital

The working capital requirement is expected to spike significantly.

Mitigation: The Company raised its fund based working capital limits with banks from ₹2.50 crore to ₹12 crore. Besides, the cash generation from on-going operations would also be used for managing day-to-day operations.

05 Process adherence

Sudden increase in crews may put pressure on process flow implementation

Mitigation: The Company will allocate key members of its own crews who are well-versed with Alphageo's processes in the new teams to ensure the process discipline across the project lifecycle.

"This opportunity sets the foundation for profitable business growth beyond 2019."

DINESH ALLA, MANAGING DIRECTOR, THROWS LIGHT ON THE POSSIBILITIES AND PROMISE ARISING FROM THE NATIONAL SEISMIC PROGRAM

This order is only a harbinger of larger sedimentary basin opportunities.

This order is about undertaking 2D seismic data acquisition in blocks completely unexplored. The data acquisition is along seismic profiles that are almost 40 – 50 LKM apart.

Based on this data, E&P companies would select blocks for exploration under the Open Acreage Policy. As a first step, these E&P players would undertake more intense 2D seismic surveys where data acquisition lines would be closer. This could be followed by 3D seismic surveys.

The bottom line then is increasing business opportunities for the seismic survey sector in general and for Alphageo in particular.

Management discussion and analysis

Economic overview

Global: In 2015, global economy activity remained subdued leading to 3.1% growth, marginally lower than in 2014. Preliminary data suggests that global growth during the second half of 2015 at 2.8% was weaker than forecasts on account of softer activity in United States, Japan and advanced Asian economies. Three key transitions influence the global outlook:

gradual slowdown in China, freefalling crude prices and a gradual tightening in US monetary policy.

The World Economic Outlook forecasts global growth at 3.2% in 2016 and 3.5% in 2017, lower than its earlier estimates in January 2016. It has warned that if recovery remains slow, it could have damaging effects on the social and political fabric of many countries. Growth in advanced economies is projected to remain modest at about 2%, the recovery hampered by weak demand, partly held down by unresolved crisis legacies, unfavourable demographics and low productivity. While emerging markets and developing economies will account for the largest share of world growth in 2016, prospects across countries remain uneven and generally weaker than over the past two decades. India remains a bright spot with strong growth and rising incomes.

Year-on-year growth

	2014	2015	2016P	2017 P
Advanced economies (%)	1.8	1.9	1.9	2.0
Emerging market and developing economies (%)	4.6	4.0	4.1	4.6
World output (%)	3.4	3.1	3.2	3.5

(SOURCE: WORLD ECONOMIC OUTLOOK, APRIL 2016] P= PROJECTED)

India: Against a subdued global economic environment, the Indian economy grew at 7.6% in 2015-16 (7.2% in 2014-15) emerging as one of the fastest growing nations in the globe. The economic growth was bolstered by an improvement in the fortunes of the manufacturing sector (9.5% growth in 2015-16 against 5.5% in 2014-15) and gains accrued from declining crude oil prices.

Domestic risks

The Economic Survey 2016 indicates that a critical challenge confronting the Indian economy is the twin Balance Sheet problem - the impaired financial positions of public sector banks and large corporate houses – triggering underinvestment. While the stressed assets in public sector banks are limiting their capacity to lend, the Balance Sheet vulnerability, especially of large private companies that borrowed heavily during the boom years, has forced firms to moderate investment and preserve cash.

External risks

Global demand for India's goods and services could remain weak in the short run, compelling the country to find and activate domestic demand sources to prevent the momentum from weakening. India needs to plan a currency readjustment in the wake of a similar adjustment in China, as such an event would spread global deflation.

Outlook

Given the macroeconomic scenario and assuming normal 2016-17 monsoons, it would

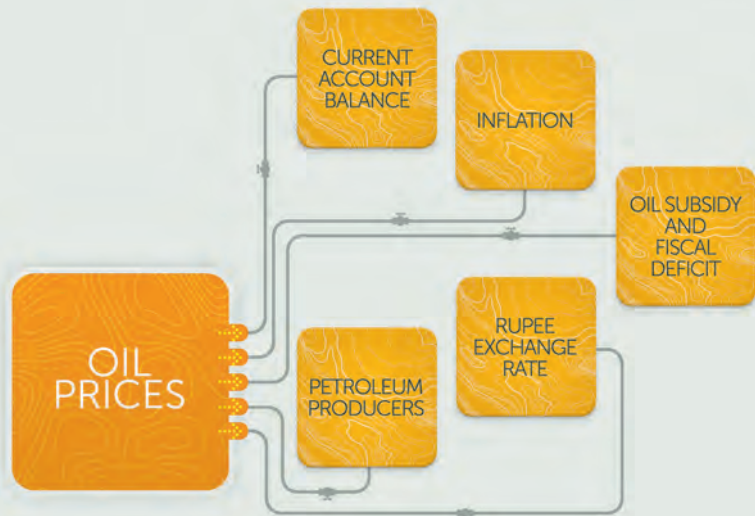

LAST AND BEST

The Indian economy expanded 7.9% year-on-year in the first three months of 2016, higher than 7.2% growth in the previous corresponding quarter. This best performance in six quarters was the result of a farm sector rebound, growing 2.3% and manufacturing sector output growing 9.3%.

not be unreasonable to believe that the Indian economy is set to register growth in excess of 7% for the third year in succession. Against an unsupportive global economic landscape and weak back-to-back monsoons, a 7.6% GDP growth in 2015-16 (as estimated by the Central Statistics Organisation) appears encouraging.

Five ways the decline in oil prices affects the Indian economy

Global crude oil prices have been volatile, declining from a high of $115/bbl in mid-2014 to a low of $28/bbl in January 2016, influenced by unfavourable demand-supply dynamics. Major oil producers - Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), Russia and United States - refrained from cutting oil production, leading to a glut. On the other hand, global demand, particularly from Europe and China, was weak owing to lower economic growth.

Current account balance: India is one of the largest importers of oil in the world. It imports nearly 80% of its total oil needs. This accounts for one third of its total imports. A fall in prices drives down the value of its imports. This helps narrow India's current account deficit. A fall in oil prices by US$10 per barrel helps reduce the current account deficit by US$9.2 billion, according to Livemint. This amounts to nearly 0.43% of the Gross Domestic Product - a measure of the size of the country's economy.

Inflation: A rise in oil price leads to an increase in the price of all goods and services. As a result, inflation rises. This affects companies - directly because of a rise in input costs and indirectly through a fall in consumer demand. This is why a decline in global crude prices comes as a boon for India. Every US$10 per barrel fall in crude oil price helps reduce retail inflation by 0.2% and wholesale price inflation by 0.5% (Source: Moneycontrol).

Oil subsidy and fiscal deficit: The government fixes the price of fuel at a subsidised rate. It then compensates companies for any loss from selling fuel products at lower rates. These losses are called under-recoveries. This adds to the government's total expenditure and enhances fiscal deficit. A fall in oil prices reduces companies' losses, oil subsidies and helps narrow the fiscal deficit. However, since diesel was recently deregulated, the fall in oil prices could have a lower effect on the government's fiscal deficit.

Rupee exchange rate: The value of a free currency like the Rupee depends on its demand in the currency market. This is why it depends to a great extent on the Current Account deficit. A high deficit means the country has to sell rupees and buy dollars to pay its bills. This reduces the value of the rupee. A fall in oil prices is, thus, good for the rupee. However, the downside is that the dollar strengthens every time the value of oil falls. This negates any benefits from a fall in Current Account deficit.

Petroleum producers: The fall in global oil prices may be beneficial to India, but also has downsides. Directly, it affects the exporters of petroleum products in the country. India is the sixth largest exporter of petroleum products in the world. This helps the country earn US$60 billion annually. Any fall in oil prices negatively impacts exports.

Global oil and gas industry

Global energy market

On the demand side, the world witnessed a gradual deceleration in global energy consumption as the huge boost from globalisation and Chinese industrialisation subsided. That slowing was compounded in 2015 by a continuing weakness in the global economy. As a result, global primary energy consumption grew by just 1.0% in 2015, similar to the rate of growth in 2014, but slower than the average of the past decade (1.9%). Much of this weakness was driven by China, where energy consumption grew at its slowest rate in almost 20 years. Even so, China remained the world's largest growth market for energy for the fifteenth consecutive year.

The supply of energy in recent years was driven by different factors, notably technological advances that increased the range and availability of different fuels. The US shale revolution unlocked huge swathes of oil and gas resources; rapid technology gains supported renewable energy growth. These advances meant that, despite the weakness of energy demand, oil, natural gas and renewable energy all recorded robust growth in 2015. Their gain came at the expense of coal, which saw its largest fall on record, taking its share within primary energy to its lowest level since 2005.

Global crude oil scenario

Consumption: Global oil consumption grew by 1.9 million barrels per day (b/d), or 1.9% - nearly double the recent historical average (+1%) and significantly stronger than the increase of 1.1 million b/d seen in 2014. The relative strength of consumption was driven by the OECD countries, where consumption increased by Oil remained the world's leading fuel, accounting for 32.9% of global energy consumption.

510,000 b/d (+1.1%), compared with an average decline of 1.1% over the past decade. Growth was well above recent historical averages in the US (+1.6%, or 290,000 b/d) and the EU (+1.5%, or 200,000 b/d), while Japan (-3.9%, or -160,000 b/d) recorded the largest decline in oil consumption. Outside of the OECD, net oil importing countries recorded significant increases: China (+6.3%, or +770,000 b/d) once again accounted for the largest increment to demand, while India (+8.1%, or 310,000 b/d) surpassed Japan as the world's third-largest oil consumer.

Production: Global oil production increased even more rapidly than consumption for a second consecutive year, rising by 2.8 million b/d or 3.2%, the strongest growth since 2004. Production in Iraq (+750,000 b/d) and Saudi Arabia (+510,000 b/d) rose to record levels, driving an increase in OPEC production of 1.6 million b/d to 38.2 million b/d, exceeding the previous record reached in 2012. Production outside OPEC slowed from last year's record growth but still grew by 1.3 million b/d. The US (+1 million b/d) reported the world's largest annual growth increment and remained the world's largest oil producer.

Prices: Brent averaged $52.39 per barrel in 2015, a decline of $46.56 per barrel from the 2014 level and the lowest annual average since 2004. Crude oil prices rose in early 2015 as global consumption rebounded and US production began to register month-on-month declines. But strong growth in OPEC production, particularly in Iraq and Saudi Arabia, caused prices to fall sharply later in the year. The Brent-WTI differential narrowed for the third consecutive year to $3.68 per barrel.

Trade: After barely growing in 2014, global trade of crude oil and refined products expanded by 3 million b/d (+5.2%) in 2015, the largest increase since 1993. Crude oil trade was lifted by growing exports from the Middle East (+550,000 b/d), while Europe and China accounted for the largest increases in imports (+770,000 b/d and +530,000 b/d respectively). Growth in refined product exports was again led by the US (+470,000 b/d); the country's net oil imports fell to 4.8 million b/d, the lowest since 1985.

India overtook Japan to become the world's third-largest consumer of oil in 2015, behind the U.S. and China

Global natural gas scenario

Consumption: Global natural gas consumption grew by 1.7% in 2015, a significant increase from the weak growth (+0.6%) in 2014 but still below the 10-year average of 2.3%. As with oil, consumption growth was below average outside the OECD (+1.9%, accounting for 53.5% of global consumption) but above average in OECD countries (+1.5%). Among emerging economies, Iran (+6.2%) and China (+4.7%) recorded the largest consumption increments, even though growth in China was sluggish compared with a 10-year average growth of 15.1%. Meanwhile, Russia (-5%) recorded the largest volumetric decline, followed by the Ukraine (-21.8%). Among OECD countries, the US (+3%) accounted for the largest growth increment, while EU consumption (+4.6%) rebounded after a large decline in 2014.

Production: Global natural gas production grew by 2.2%, more rapidly than consumption but below its 10-year average of 2.4%. As with consumption, the US (+5.4%) recorded the largest growth increment, with Iran (+5.7%) and Norway (+7.7%) also recording significant increases in production. Growth was above average in North America, Africa and Asia Pacific. EU production once again fell sharply (-8%), with the Netherlands (-22.8%) recording the world's largest decline. Large volumetric declines were also seen in Russia (-1.5%) and Yemen (-71.5%).

Globally, natural gas accounted for 23.8% of primary energy consumption.

Indian oil and gas industry

India witnessed unprecedented economic expansion in the last 25 years. Driven by demographic changes, rapid industrialisation and a strong export-oriented services framework, the Indian gross domestic product grew more than 3.3-fold from 2002 to 2012, second only to China.

As its economy flourished, India's demand for energy rose more than 70%, a trend that is expected to continue into the next decade, making India the third largest energy consumer globally by 2020. With the growth in automobiles, power and fertilisers, oil and gas as energy sources represent more than 45% of the country's total energy consumption.

However, this rapid surge in demand for hydrocarbons has not translated proportionately in a growth in domestic exploration and production (E&P) in the country's oil and gas industry. A case-in-point is that of the 11th Five-Year Plan, for which India committed to produce 206.8 million tonnes (MT) of crude oil but the actual production was 176.9 MT.

India's oil and gas sector is among the six core industries, playing a major role in influencing decision making for all important sections of the economy.

Reserves: India has a total sedimentary area of 3.14 million sq km across 26 sedimentary basins comprising on-land, off shore and deep-water areas, wherein only seven basins are in production, making it one of the least explored countries. In the conventional hydrocarbon prognosticated resources of 15 sedimentary basins assessed so far, there are 28.1 billion tonnes of oil and oil equivalent of gas, out of which 61% of estimated resources are yet to find category. About 1.35 million sq km of India's sedimentary area are in deep water and 1.79 million sq km area accounted under on-land and shallow offshore pockets.

As per IEA, India possesses proven oil reserves of 5.7 billion barrels (recoverable reserves of 24 billion barrels), compared with an annual crude demand of 1.4 billion barrels - and rising. India's gas resources are projected at a larger 7,900 bcm of recoverable reserves (more than 200 times the present annual production).

As a result of the high consumption, more than 75% of India's oil and gas consumption is imported. To reduce India's import dependence, the Government launched the New Exploration Licensing Policy (NELP) in 1997-98.

LIFE OF INDIAN RESERVES

With the current oil production level of around 815,000 barrels per day, on estimated reserves of 1.2 BMT (Billion Metric Tonne), the reserves-to-production ratio is 25 years. The potential for gas seems brighter; at the current production level of around 40 BCM (billion cubic meters) per year on an estimated reserves base of around 1,500 BCM, translating to a reserves-to-production ratio of more than 30 years. India fares poorly not only against oil-rich regions like West Asia, which possess over 80 years of reserves but also when compared with the global average of 50 years.

Unfavourable regulations and prohibitive costs resulted in the low foreign participation in India's E&P space. Foreign companies won 40% of the 254 awarded blocks, but many blocks held have since been relinquished. Out of 254 blocks, 106 have been relinquished and only 11 out of 128 discoveries have gone into production. Seismic surveys, integral to exploration, have slowed over the last five years.

Estimates suggest that India's import dependence on hydrocarbons is projected to increase from 80% to 90% by 2040, leaving the country vulnerable to geopolitical developments.

Government thrust on oil and gas

India's economic growth is closely related to energy demand; therefore the need for oil and gas is projected to grow more, making the sector conducive for investment. The Government took important initiatives to invite investments into the oil and gas sector.

In a major drive to enhance the petroleum and hydrocarbon sector, Government of India introduced initiatives like the Hydrocarbon Exploration Licensing Policy (HELP), Marketing and Pricing freedom for new gas production, grant of extension to the Production Sharing Contracts and assigning the Ratna offshore field award to Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) for development.

The Government released the Hydrocarbon Vision 2030 for North East India, with the objective of leveraging the north-eastern region's hydrocarbon potential, enhance access to clean fuels, improve availability of petroleum products, facilitate economic development and to involve local population in the economic activities in this sector.

The Government of India plans to incentivise gas production from deep-water, ultra deep-water and high pressure-high temperature areas, which are presently not exploited on account of higher cost and risk, and also to augment the investment in nuclear power generation in the next 15 to 20 years.

The Government of India is in the process of identifying at least 50 potential blocks of 100 sq km and above to be given to companies for bringing private investment in the mineral exploration sector. The

UNDER-PENETRATION

As brought out by the International Energy Agency (IEA) in the India Energy Outlook, 2015, the sense of under-explored potential is reinforced by the drilling record. Roughly 3,000 wells have been drilled in India's offshore basin, at an average density of one well per 146 sq km, which is a low intensity compared with other offshore basins (and certainly with the US Gulf of Mexico, which has been drilled with an average density of one well per 14 sq km).

Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas put up for comments a draft policy, to opt for revenue-sharing model while auctioning future oil and gas blocks for exploration to private companies, compared to the erstwhile production-sharing mode to make the process transparent and market-oriented.

The Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas announced a new 'Marginal Fields Policy', which aims to bring into production 69 marginal oil and gas fields with 89 million tonnes or ₹75,000 crore (US$ 11 billion) worth of reserves, by offering various incentives to oil and gas explorers such as exemption from payment of oil cess and customs duty on machinery and equipment

Crude oil, 2015-16

Production and consumption:

Domestic crude oil production fell for the fourth straight year in 2015-16. Domestic crude oil production was marginally lower at 36.9 million tonnes in 2015-16 from 37.5 million tonnes in the previous financial year. A collapse in oil prices coupled with a rapid economic growth fuelled domestic oil consumption. More vehicle purchases, increased use of diesel for irrigation due to weak monsoon and rising air traffic drove up consumption to 183.5 million tonnes, compared to 165.5 million tonnes in the previous year - a growth of 10.9%, the highest in 15 years.

Imports: India's crude oil import bill nearly halved to US$ 64 billion in 2015-16 fiscal as global oil prices slumped to multi-year lows. India imported 202.1 million tonnes of crude oil in the fiscal year that ended March 31, for USD 64.4 billion, according to the latest data available from Petroleum Ministry. This compared to import of 189.4 million tonnes of crude oil for USD 112.7 billion in the previous 2014-15 fiscal. India also imported 28.3 million tonnes of petroleum products worth USD 10 billion in FY16 compared with USD 12.1 billion it had paid for the import of 21.3 million tonnes of fuel in the previous period.

While the basket of crude oil India imports averaged USD 84.16 per barrel in 2014-15, it cost only USD 46.17 a barrel in FY16. The Indian basket averaged USD 105.52 per barrel in 2013-14.

India's import dependence on oil rose to 81% in 2015-16 from 78.5% in the previous year.

Crude oil production in India averaged 693.49 BBL/D/1K from 1994 until 2015,

What is HELP?

The Government recently approved the Hydrocarbon Exploration and Licensing Policy (HELP). The key facets of this policy comprise:

Uniform license for exploration and production of all forms of hydrocarbon

Easy to administer revenue sharing model

Marketing and pricing freedom for the crude oil and natural gas produced

The uniform license will enable the contractor to explore conventional as well as unconventional oil and gas resources including CBM, shale gas/oil, tight gas and gas hydrates under a single license. The concept of Open Acreage Policy will enable E&P companies choose the blocks from the designated area. Under the new regime, the Government will not be concerned with the cost incurred and will receive a share of the gross revenue from the sale of oil and gas.

Natural gas, 2015-16

Natural gas is the cleanest fossil fuel; it has lower sulphur dioxide and nitrous oxides than other fossil fuels.

India is the fifth-largest Liquefied Natural Gas (LNG) importer after Japan, South Korea, United Kingdom and Spain, accounting for 5.5% of the total global trade gas pipeline infrastructure in the country.

Performance in 2015-16: In 2015-16, LNG imports surged 14.96% at 21,309.28 MMSCM against 18,535.73 MMSCM in 2014-15. The domestic natural gas output fell by 5.5% in 2015-16 at 25,306.73 MMSCM.

The country's gas production is expected to touch 90 billion cubic metres (BCM) in 2040 from 35 BCM in 2013.

Outlook

Estimates by British Petroleum:

The growth in energy demand in India would be the highest among all countries by 2030-35. India's energy production would rise by 112%, while consumption would grow by 132%. Oil imports would rise by 169% and account for over 60% of the net increase in imports, followed by increasing imports of gas (+573%) and coal (+85%). India's energy mix will evolve slowly over the next 20 years, with fossil fuels accounting for 87% of demand in 2035 (92% currently), compared to a global average of 81%. India's energy production as a share of consumption would drop from 61% today to just 56% by 2035.

Estimates as per International

Energy Agency: India's oil products demand is expected to remain firmly on an upward trajectory, rising two-and-a-half-fold to 10 million barrels per day (b/d) by 2040, the biggest rise projected for any country. The agency cites the 100 Smart Cities Mission and the manufacturing boost expected from the Make in India campaign as factors that will drive the country's oil appetite.

According to the Directorate General of Hydrocarbons, the predicted CBM resources in the country are to the tune of 92 tcf (2.6 tcm). India's shale gas reserves could be anywhere between 300 tcf (8.5 tcm) and 2,100 tcf (59.5 tcm).

*PETRO GOODS

Rise in consumption because of:

Sale of more vehicles

Increased use of diesel for irrigation due to weak monsoon

Fall in production because:

Oil companies have been struggling with ageing fields where outputs have been falling

Their inability to bring fresh big reserves into production has kept production stagnant

Risk management at Alphageo is an essential part of the business model, concerned with moderating the adverse influence of risks and threats on the Company's business goals.

The Company used its 25-year experience to assure shareholders about prospects.

The Company adopts an intensive and well formulated risk management approach in tandem with prudential standards, well-thought-out reporting and effective control mechanisms.

The strength of this framework was enhanced by a combination of centrally issued policies and procedures, which were developed dynamically.

The senior management team intermittently analysed the risk management framework to keep abreast of contemporary standards and stay prepared to tackle incipient challenges.

PEOPLE RISK

Attrition of intellectual capital could impact project execution.

Risk mitigation: The Company's experience across geographies and terrains in India and at international sites provides a continuous learning curve to team members. This strengthens loyalty with the Company. The Company's training calendar provides its team with adequate knowledge on new-age technologies and global best practices, thereby growing their skills. A combination of on-job and in-class knowledge enhancement enabled the Company to retain its talent pool.

EXECUTION RISK

Timely completion of projects despite all odds is vital for a company's profitable growth and sustainability.

Risk mitigation: For Alphageo, project planning has been a key strength. Meticulous planning done by experts and its 'got-to-be-a-way' attitude allows the team to overcome project execution challenges. Besides, continuous investment in cutting-edge technology enables superior project execution and accurate data collection and analysis – the Company invested ₹4953 lakh in the last three years in technology-upgraded equipment.

FUNDING RISK

Lack of adequate funds could impact the Company's ability to bid for and undertake large projects.

Risk mitigation: The Company enjoys sound financial standing. INDUSTRY RISK

Plummeting oil prices threaten to stifle the prospects for oil and gas exploration and other seismic survey services.

Risk mitigation: More than 80% of India's oil consumption is imported. The government aims to reduce India's dependence on imports by 10% by 2022. This can only be possible by exploring the unexplored and underexplored sedimentary basins. This promises a bright future for seismic survey services in the coming years. The introduction of HELP promises to open interesting opportunities for oil exploration in India, which should lead to promising seismic survey projects.

COMPETITION RISK

Increasing opportunities could draw global seismic survey players onto the Indian turf, enhancing competition.

Risk mitigation: Alphageo is the most experienced and respected player in India's seismic survey space having successfully delivered challenging projects in hostile terrains for leading oil producing companies in India. The Company is respected for its project planning skills which enables it to deliver most projects on time. Further, the Company has the financial strength to bid for and undertake large projects. The technical expertise and the financial soundness position Alphageo as the preferred seismic partner.

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

NOTES TO STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

27 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND OTHER EXPLANATORY INFORMATION

I. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in India under the historical cost convention on an accrual basis in compliance with all material aspects of the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act"), read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014, other pronouncements of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the relevant provisions of the Act and also the guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI).

The accounting policies have been consistently applied by the Company and are consistent with those used in the previous year. The financial statements are presented in Indian rupees rounded off to the nearest rupee.

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in Schedule III to the Act. Being service provider, the Company has assumed its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

B. Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities on the date of financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the year. Although these estimates are based upon management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results could differ from these estimates. Difference between actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialised and the difference is classified in statement of Profit and Loss using the same classification as was used previously for the estimate.

C. Tangible assets and depreciation

- i) Tangible fixed assets are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation thereon and impairment losses, if any. Historical cost is inclusive of freight, duties and taxes and incidental expenses related to acquisition.
- ii) Depreciation is charged on straight line basis so as to write off the depreciable amount of the asset over the useful lives specified in Schedule II to the Act. The useful life of the assets are periodically reviewed and re-determined based on a technical evaluation and expected use and the unamortised depreciable amount is charged over the remaining useful life of such assets. In certain cases, the useful life of assets so determined being different from the useful life as specified under Part C of Schedule II of the Act, are as given below:

Nature of Asset	Useful Life
Machinery in the nature of Geophone strings and cables	5 Years
Machinery in the nature of equipment used for Seismic Survey	5 Years

D. Intangible assets and amortisation

Cost relating to an acquired Intangible asset is being capitalised and being amortised over the period of its estimated useful life.

E. Impairment of assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the statement of profit and loss. If at the balance sheet date there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount subject to a maximum of amortised historical cost.

F. Foreign exchange transactions

Transactions in Foreign Exchange, other than those covered by forward contracts are accounted for at the exchange rate prevailing on

26 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND OTHER EXPLANATORY INFORMATION

I. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A. Basis of preparation

The Consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in India under the historical cost convention on an accrual basis in compliance with all material aspects of the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act"), read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014, other pronouncements of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the relevant provisions of the Act and also the guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI).

The accounting policies have been consistently applied by the Group and are consistent with those used in the previous year. The consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian rupees rounded off to the nearest rupee.

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current based on the Group normal operating cycle and other criteria. Being service provider, the Group has assumed its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

B. Principles of consolidation

- The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of Alphageo (India) Limited, the parent company and its subsidiary companies in which Alphageo (India) Limited Group, directly or indirectly, has an interest of more than one half voting power or otherwise has the power to control the composition of Board of Directors.
- The Consolidated financial statements have been prepared combining the financial statements of the parent company and the subsidiary companies on a line by line basis by adding together the book value of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses after eliminating intra-group balances and transactions and resulting unrealised profits in full. Unrealised losses resulting from intra group transactions have also been eliminated except to the extent that recoverable value of related assets is lower than their cost.
- The consolidated financial statements have been presented to the extent possible, in the same format as that adopted by the parent company for its separate financial statements.
- The consolidated statements have been prepared using uniform accounting principles for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances.

C. Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities on the date of financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the year. Although these estimates are based upon management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results could differ from these estimates. Difference between actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known / materialised and the difference is classified in statement of Profit and Loss using the same classification as was used previously for the estimate.

D. Tangible assets and depreciation

- Tangible fixed assets are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation thereon and impairment losses, if any. Historical cost is inclusive of freight, duties and taxes and incidental expenses related to acquisition.
- Depreciation is charged on straight line basis so as to write off the depreciable amount of the asset over the useful lives specified in Schedule II to the Act. The useful life of the assets are periodically reviewed and re-determined based on a technical evaluation and expected use and the unamortised depreciable amount is charged over the remaining useful life of such assets. In certain cases, the useful life of assets so determined being different from the useful life as specified under Part C of Schedule II of the Act, are as given below:

Nature of Asset	Useful Life
Machinery in the nature of Geophone strings and cables	5 Years
Machinery in the nature of equipment used for Seismic Survey	5 Years
Machinery in the nature of Vibrators used for Seismic Survey	20 Years
